To Whom It May Concern,

We highly recommend Kelly Carter as a nanny. We have known Kelly since October of 2023, when we interviewed and hired Kelly to take care of our three month old son on a weekly and then bi-weekly basis until June 2024. Kelly was the first non-family member that took care of Calvin. We were immediately impressed with her professionalism, attention to detail, knowledge of infants, and kindness. As first time parents, it was hard to leave our baby with anyone else, however we knew that Kelly would take excellent care of him.

It has been a pleasure for us to work with Kelly, but - perhaps more importantly - our son loves spending time with her. They play with toys, go for walks, listen to music, and generally enjoy each other's company. Kelly pays close attention to Calvin for the entire time that she watches him. While she is watching him, she is wholly devoted to caring for him. We have so valued partnering with Kelly, as she brings her wisdom and experience to the table while honoring our hopes for the care of our son. Our relationship with her really feels like a team effort, and we appreciate how much we've learned from her along the way.

Two of Kelly's strengths are her professionalism and communication. Kelly listened attentively to our requests about feeding, nap time routines, and enrichment activities. She is very careful with Calvin and has a strong sense of what will best serve him. Kelly is also a clear communicator. We have greatly valued how promptly and honestly she reaches out; it is apparent that she greatly values her role and responsibility. Additionally, she has been supremely flexible and easygoing with shifts in our schedule - an immeasurably valuable asset in this wild world of parenting!

We have thoroughly enjoyed working with Kelly and are looking forward to maintaining our relationship as our son transitions to full-time daycare.

We would be happy to speak with anyone on the phone, if you have additional questions.

All Best,

Mary and Elliott
